

Figure 1 is a Gantt chart illustrating the execution time of various tasks across different processors. The x-axis represents Time (s) from 0 to 3500. The y-axis lists tasks with their IDs and durations. Tasks are represented by colored bars indicating their execution period. A red horizontal line marks the 1000s point. The chart shows a complex schedule with many tasks running in parallel and some tasks being delayed or preempted.

